

Press Release

Austin Band Futon Blonde releases new EP

“Multiplier”

In anticipation of their 2024 EP ‘Multiplier’, the band has released a string of singles showcasing a sleek new sound informed by bass-heavy grooves and soulful vocals.

Futon Blonde is an indie rock band based in Austin, TX. The band has explored elements of psych rock, funk and 90’s alternative while staying true to their catchy, groove-heavy origins. Early recordings were focused around the songwriting of

singer/guitarist Janson

Sommers, but over the years the band’s repertoire has grown to include the songwriting and vocal talents of guitarist Mark

Webb and bassist Ben

‘Beng’ Goodman. The

quartet has released several

EP’s, one full length

(‘Uppercut’ in 2019) and toured Texas and the West Coast. In 2023 the band released the EP ‘Something That We’ve All Experienced Together Before’, a collection of 6 songs highlighting the band’s breezy indie rock side.
