Austin band Futon Blonde releases new EP

“Something We’ve All Experienced Together Before” out March 30, 2023

Something That We’ve All Experienced Together Before is the new EP from Austin band Futon Blonde out March 30th.

The first of three EP’s the band will release this year, each exploring a different genre. This album sees the band refining their indie rock roots, with an emphasis on breezy pop/rock hooks and only a hint of their previous moody excursions.

The group self-recorded and had the record mixed by Danny Reisch (Good Danny’s), Dan Duszynski (Dandy Sounds), and Ben Andrewes.

RECORD RELEASE SHOW: Thursday night 3/30/2023 at Chess Club in downtown Austin, along with local acts San Gabriel and Trumpeter Swan (featuring members of What Made Milwaukee Famous).
